The American Association of Immunologists Wins Top Award for Excellence in Association Communications

ROCKVILLE, MD (JUNE 2, 2023) — The American Association of Immunologists (AAI), Inc., announced today it has been recognized by ASAE with the 2023 Gold Circle Award in Media/Public Relations. The Gold Circle Awards competition is the premier association marketing, membership, and communications award that recognizes excellence, innovation, and achievement in association/nonprofit marketing, membership, and communications programs. This year's competition received more than 150 applications across 16 categories.

AAI received the award in media/public relations for its 2022 National Immunization Awareness Month Campaign, which reached more than 36 million consumers through media tours, social media campaigns, and social media influencers to encourage the public to get back on track with regular immunizations, especially childhood immunizations.

“Being named a Gold Circle Award winner is an incredible honor for AAI and an acknowledgement of the commitment we have made as an organization to reaching the public with important messages about immunology’s role in health,” says Loretta L. Doan, Ph.D., Chief Executive Officer of AAI. “In 2022, AAI launched its first public awareness initiative to give consumers a badly needed reliable source of unbiased information about immunology. This award from our association community demonstrates the effectiveness of AAI’s messaging and the underpinning desire from the broader society to receive this information.

“AAI leadership and members have made a significant commitment to raising public awareness of these issues,” Doan continued, “and being honored with this top award validates their cause and underscores their effectiveness as scientific spokespersons.”

"The Gold Circle Awards recognize and highlight the significant role that marketing, membership, and communications association professionals play in promoting and supporting the growth of associations and their members. This year, the Gold Circle Awards categories have been updated to encourage and promote diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility in campaign development. The winning campaigns showcase innovation, collaboration, creativity, and thoughtful incorporation of the diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility perspective in their design and implementation."
